The Logic of Love

Part V: The Leap: Believing Without Knowing

Parts I, II and III worked together to develop a concept of God that is internally consistent with our experience of life. Part IV focused on the nature of our choice between the gnostic paradigms. Part V is about what it takes to make that choice. The first two chapters of Part V are about appreciating the profundity of making the choice to have faith in God and about leaving behind our emotional baggage as we prepare to make that decision. This is followed by an application of the value of love to the decision-making process and an exploration of what beliefs are minimally necessary for the full liberation of love. Part V concludes with an invitation to join the family of the faith-children of God. This is not an invitation to join a religion. It is an invitation to share an experience of spiritual identity.
